

167 - threads suitable for overlock sewing, especially in the upholstered furniture industry. The structure of the 167 thread makes them soft and fluffy, thanks to which they are perfectly suited for covering seams. 167 threads can be successfully used for elastic and standard fabrics. 167 threads are available in white colour.

All the parameters of 167
are up to the European standard EN 12590:1999

167 is recommended for sewing of:
